

Seminar

Collaboration and integration of Environment, Biosafety and Health & Safety Aspects

Are you involved in (bio)safety on a daily basis at work? Are you working on the improvement of human health and environment? Then you probably collaborate with other professionals in the environmental, biosafety, health and safety sector on a regular basis. During the Seminar 'Collaboration and integration of Environment, Biosafety and Health & Safety aspects', a joined initiative of VMx and BBP, you will learn many tips and tricks on how to improve this collaboration and interaction. Experts in each field will share their experiences. Moreover, there is abundant opportunity for networking.
