24th annual conference

From 18 to 21 April 2023, Athens will be the meeting place for biosafety professionals to network with colleagues and to hear about biosafety-related European and international developments during the 24th Annual Conference of the European BioSafety Association (EBSA).

The conference programme will cover a wide range of scientific and regulatory aspects that have an impact on biosafety and laboratory biosecurity.

The organizers invite you to join the conference to take part in the exhibition or to support the Annual conference in another way – please find the possibilities below.

We look forward to seeing you in Athens, Greece!
